CLI is frequently due to multi-segmental disease & may require multiple vascular access for complete revascularization.

Dear Corporate Partner,

I am writing to you on behalf of Lawrence Garcia, MD & Greg Landry, MD who recently spoke with you regarding your support and participation in ASCENT: The 6th Annual Northwest Conference on Limb Preservation. This unique conference is being held in Sun River, Oregon on June 6-8, 2019 at the Sun River Lodge. Our meeting is designed as a multidisciplinary skill development and educational event focused on educating attendees on the most current modalities for optimal treatment of patients with PAC and Critical Limb Ischemia.

A distinguished national faculty will provide insights, information and guidance on topics related to these disease sets and state-of-the art approaches to diagnosis and management. As you may be aware, the Northwest has been generally late in adopting some of the latest, contemporary approaches used widely in the rest of the country. Our mission, with your support is to dramatically alter the vascular health and clinical outcomes of the segment of our aging patient population afflicted with these problems.

Our target audience includes primary care providers, vascular interventionists from cardiology, radiology and vascular surgical backgrounds, podiatrists, orthopedists, wound care specialists, vascular and general surgeons and nephrologists. Mid-level providers and allied health provider's professionals assigned to the interventional suite are also invited to participate. With your support, our education will increase the adoption of the methods and techniques which will result in increased utilization of interventional products across all product lines. For complete details visit our website at www.ascentcli.com.

ASCENT would like to invite you to participate by sponsorship and have attached a listing of the levels, along with a schedule. We will provide recognition on all conference materials, on the podium, screen and signage. Your company will receive full access to the conference, use of the registration list, invitation to all social events. All products used in our case presentations will be referenced along with contact information. For more information, please contact Julie Vissers, Conference and Tradeshow Coordinators, 503-679-2219 or 503-635-4761, julie@wellassembled.com.

We look forward to your partnership and assistance in moving forward with this important effort at broadening access to advanced care for CLI victims forward in the Pacific Northwest.

Sincerely,

Julie Vissers
